

Puritan Hams

"Is it young?" is the natural inquiry of a woman buying fowls. That quality is just as desirable in a ham. Those tender, juicy meat fibres are not found in meats which are more than mature.

Puritan Hams are "young" as evidenced by the thin, smooth skin. Such hams more readily yield to the delicate flavoring materials of the Puritan process producing that result of superiority.

CAR SERVICE RAPPED HARD

Highland Park Business League Strongly Opposes Proposed Raise in Fares

WILL ENTER PROTEST League Speakers Condemn Crowded Conditions—"Peddling of Power" Charged.

BYNES' BINGLES.

J. M. Bynes, the Fourth ward colored merchant, has this bon mot on his bulletin board: "If six-cent car fare gives motormen and conductors a fair salary, we'll pay it."

Car service of the Chattanooga Railway and Light company was sharply criticized by members of the Highland Park Business League at a rousing meeting in engine hall No. 5 Wednesday night.

The league went on record as being strongly opposed to any increase in carfare until the company had rendered better service than is now being rendered.

Not only that, but a large number of the members, headed by Hal B. Moseley as chairman, will appear before the city commissioners next Tuesday to enter a vigorous protest against a raise in carfare. It is expected that the delegation of Ninth warders will be swelled by other citizens of that section who favor the stand they are taking.

Speakers at the meeting, which was called by President M. N. Whitaker, and presided over by Mr. Moseley in the absence of Gen. Whitaker, were the absent chairman, W. Howard, manager of the industrial department of the chamber of commerce; J. B. Milligan, well known attorney, and president of the Fidelity Abstract company; Bert R. Shepherd, traffic manager of the Chattanooga Sewer Pipe & Fire Brick company; Mack McClanahan, a contractor; W. A. Weaver, of the Southern Express company; J. D. Dickson, also of the express company; J. H. Eitter, real estate man, and P. S. Daniel, secretary of the Blue Book Credit company. Brief remarks were made by others.

Chairman Moseley stated that before the strike Chattanooga had the best car system in the south. He explained that the same company which operates cars in this city sells seven tickets for 5 cents in Columbus, O., and charges 5 cents straight in Nashville. He thought the poor would be willing to pay a cent more carfare if they could get the right kind of service.

Mismanagement Charged.

Crowded conditions of the cars, poor ventilation, a higher charge for lights, and other things came in for spirited complaint. Mismanagement was charged by Mr. Weaver.

Mr. Dickson said it looked as if the company was trying to make its patrons pay for the strike. He was opposed to any increase in fares and said the company has saved about twenty-five per cent since it discontinued the sale of tickets and about fifteen per cent since the light rates were increased. He complained of the poor ventilation and crowded conditions of the cars.

C. W. Howard Gives Figures.

C. W. Howard declared that Chattanooga owes the railway and light company no favors. He charged the company with "peddling" its power to competing cities "until today we are not using thirty per cent of the power generated in the Chattanooga district." He further charged that the management of the company had been both short-sighted and arbitrary. He explained that he learned from Manager E. D. Reed, of the car company, that between January 1, 1918, and July 31, 1918, 8,163,397 fares were collected and between the same dates 1,609,395 transfers were issued. Fares collected between Rossville and Chickamauga park were not included in the estimate. According to Mr. Howard, an advance of 1 cent in carfare will net the company, according to their estimate, around $125,000 per annum more than they are receiving now. He suggested an additional 5 cents for transfers, which he said would give the company about $50,000 more than they are now collecting and offered for the consideration of the league a suggestion that Mission ride fares be raised 5 cents, a 5-cent raise for "villains only on the Chickamauga line, and a 10-cent raise to Lookout mountain. He figured that these changes would net the company an additional $125,000 per annum and distribute the burden to fit living conditions of the individual.

"We Want Service."

Mr. Milligan said he was willing to pay more for what he gets if he gets what he wants. He referred to the service as "rotten." "What we want is service," he said.

Mr. Shepherd presented figures regarding the raise in light rates and advised an investigation of the company's books with a view to ascertaining whether they are entitled to any increase. He said the company used to furnish light globes free but cut that out. He explained that his light bill on the old system was $3.40 and $4.50 under the new system. He said he wrote to Commissioner T. C. Betterton, but was informed that the city had no way to protect itself unless a bill could be gotten through the legislature. This bill will be prepared by the city attorney. Mr. Shepherd advocated a cross-town system and spoke of the delay in going around the circle from Georgia avenue back to this avenue.

Mr. McClanahan said the people were being shoved into cars like cattle, that there was smoking in the cars, and that the people ought to be given places like human beings and not crowded into the cars like cattle.

"The trouble is mismanagement," stated Mr. Weaver. He referred to the congestion and said that at the time the cars should be coming into the city in the mornings they were going out. The same he said was true in the evenings. He believed the city commissioners can exercise better supervision than they do. He said the promises of the company were not good for anything.

Skip-Stop Plan Means Big Saving. Mr. Eitter could see no reason for any increase. He said the skip-stop plan would mean a great saving. He felt that the company should be compelled to give better service.

The service on the Vance avenue line was characterized by Mr. Daniel as being "terribly rotten." He said the cars ran when it was so wilted and stopped in like manner. Other speakers criticized the method of operating Vance avenue cars.

Chairman Moseley said the telephone service is as bad if not worse than the car service. Mr. Howard said he could not conceive of the "rotten" service being any worse. "This matter will not go into at length, as it was decided to let it rest for a time in the hope that there will be improvement. If the service does not improve, a protest will be sent to Washington, as the telephones are now under Uncle Sam's supervision.

LOOKOUT COMMANDERY HAS INTERESTING MEETING

Degrees Are Conferred Upon Soldier From Camp Forrest.

One of the most interesting conclaves held by Lookout Commandery No. 14, Knights Templar, was that which took place Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple, on which occasion the Order of the Temple was conferred on a young man in the service and who is a member of one of the companies in Camp Forrest. The event was responsible for a large attendance especially on the part of Sir Knights located at Fort Oglethorpe and Chickamauga.

The impressive feature of the conferring of the work was that of the communication of the Order of Malta, by East Grand Commander J. B. Nicklin, acting as prelate, Sir Knight Nicklin was at his best not only in conferring Malta but in his work in connection with that of the Order of the Temple. Eminent Commander Owen B. Arner, with the assistance of Captain-General L. D. Peeler and Generalissimo John S. Fouche conferred the work in a manner that brought forth hearty words of commendation on the part of those present.

At the close of the conclave a luncheon was spread at Newton's, a large number enjoying the occasion. Brief toasts were made by those participating in the event. The table, which extended almost the full length of the dining room was arranged in the form of a cross, the table contained small wine glasses which were used as decorations in the form of a triangle, typifying the Red Cross degree. The toasts were all appropriate and added greatly to the enjoyment of those present.
